

Q: How to filter the rows in datagridview based on the column values? I have a datagridview. I want to filter out only those rows which has the value "1" in the cell of Column 17. The column 17 refers to the column number of the datagridview. How can i achieve this in c#. I tried like this but it didn't work.

private void LoadData() { //Loading event in my datagridview //Calling BindData() method SqlConnection sqlconn = new SqlConnection(); sqlconn.ConnectionString = "Data Source=....."; sqlconn.Open(); DataTable dt = new DataTable(); SqlDataAdapter sqlDa = new SqlDataAdapter(@"Select * from someTable", sqlconn); sqlDa.Fill(dt); sqlconn.Close(); dataGridView1.DataSource = dt; string qry = "Select * from someTable where Column17='1'"; SqlCommand cmd = new SqlCommand(qry, sqlconn); dataGridView1.DataSource = dt; } A: Table 2 have 2 columns, one for ID and one for Rate. You want to filter the tables by Rate column. Select * From Table2 Where Column17='1' If you wanna use it in datagridview: if (dataGridView1.Columns[17].DataPropertyName == "Rate") dataGridView1.DataSource = dataGridView1.DataSource.Clone() as DataTable else dataGridView1.DataSource = dataGridView1.DataSource.Clone() as DataTable Hope this help Main menu Post navigation
